By Roland Courtenay On 12 July 2016 In EU Commission Comments Off Absolutely Fabulous: the first We are abfab as an independent multicultural nation. We may be crap as a national football team but clearly that is a FA problem not appointing the right manager. But Lewis Hamilton and Andy Murray and our other successes on our green pastures this weekend, prove we have the abilities to win and their success gives us belief to believe in ourselves. Our referendum decision was the correct one. The [...]

And finally, leave or remain Neither NIC nor I are policitially correct, I just write from my soul, it is what I truly believe is best for us, the United Kingdom. NIC is only funded by me and no one else. The party has no masters to please. So in a few days time we must vote and choose. It is called democracy, our democracy which historically has been copied by many countries as has [...]
